WHILE THE WEATHER IS FINE!

Great Meeting at Salt Lake

On the 7th of February there was a great meeting at Salt Lake City of all the [illegible] of the Mormon Church, at which [illegible] were initiated to establish an Utah a State Government. The idea was given out that this would be done with or without the consent of the General Government. A correspondent of the Sacramento Union writes:

President Young ascended the pulpit and with a calmness of manner and solemnity of style that I never before observed in that [illegible] offered a prayer that in his [illegible] considered the occasion as one [illegible] marked solemnity. In substance he said:

"O God the Eternal Father, in the name of Jesus Christ, Thy Son, we present ourselves before Thee in this Thy House in [illegible] it is not frequent for us, but Thou knowest our desires and our circumstances. We are now assembled to consider our rights, the rights of God the Father, of Jesus, of the Holy One and of the people in a free republican government. We ask Thee, in the name of Jesus Christ, to dictate every emotion and every feeling in every heart in this assembly. We are Thine, and we realize that our every being is in Thy hands. Whether we be few or many, if Thou direct, all is well. We humbly pray Thee to dictate, direct and rule the Committee, the President of this meeting and the Secretary, and all others throughout this Territory who are engaged in the consideration of this important subject. We pray to be so guided that we may do that which is right. That our voice may be in accordance with Thine own. Let us hear Thy voice, and may we be directed that Thy will be done. May those not connected with us, and who are not united with us in faith, hear Thee this day. Speak to them that they may unite with us in seeking that which is right. Bless the Government of that which is called the United States. If they should err in ignorance spare them; but if the President and his Cabinet, or the assembled Congress should arise in opposition to this people and seek to bring evil upon them, we pray Thee to sweep them from the face of the earth, that the Government of the nation may pass into the hands of the just. We delight in the happiness of the poor and those who seek righteousness. Help us to do right always, and defend us in presenting our demands for admission into the Union of States. Amen."

THE WEAKNESS OF A GENIUS.—Porson's ability to set up all night, and even for several consecutive nights, was amazing. Whenever he dined out, his friends were obliged at eleven or twelve o'clock at night, to turn him out of their houses, and he never failed when in the street to growl out that he hated "to be turned out of a house like a dog." Horne Tooke took an ingenious method (as he imagined) of securing Porson's early departure. He ascertained when Porson had been sitting up for three consecutive nights, and invited him to dinner the day after. Unfortunately, the plan was wholly unsuccessful. Porson kept Tooke up the whole of the night, and in the morning, the latter, in perfect despair said: "Mr. Porson, I am engaged to meet a friend at breakfast at a coffee house in Leicester square." "Oh!" replied Porson, "I will go with you," and he accordingly did so.

A MOTHER'S GRAVE.—Earth has some sacred spots, where we feel like loosing shoes from our feet, and treading with reverence; where common words of social converse seem rude, and friendship's hands have lingered in each other; where vows have been plighted, prayers offered, and tears of parting shed. Oh! how thoughts hover around such places, and travel back through unmeasured space to visit them! But of all the spots on this green earth none is so sacred as that where rests, waiting the resurrection, those we have once loved and cherished—our brothers, or our children. Hence, in all ages, the better part of mankind have chosen and loved spots of the dead, and on these spots they have loved to wander at eventide and meditate. But of all places, even among the charnel houses of the dead, none is so sacred as a mother's grave. There sleeps the nurse of infancy, the guide of our youth, the counsellor of our riper years—our friend when others deserted us; she whose heart was a stranger to every other feeling but love—there she sleeps, and we love the very earth for her sake.

Married life often begins with rosewood and ends with pine. Think of that, my dears, before you furniture your parlors.

Why is an old fashioned silk pocket handkerchief like the Southern Confederacy flag? Because one is a bandanna and the other is a [illegible] banner.

The Confederate War Department has issued orders to secure all the corn held by distillers, on account of the pernicious effects of the unlimited manufacture of whiskey; also, because of the exorbitant prices the Government is compelled to pay for articles indispensable as subsistence to the army.

Latest desperate enterprise—A man going from Yamhill county to Cariboo.

A Look at the Past and the Present

The Government fully understands the history and objects of the Joe Lane and Whiteaker party in this State. When Joe Lane left Washington he avowed his sympathies with the rebellion, pledged himself that his life should be given in its behalf, and gave his son, educated at the cost of the Government, into the hands of the rebels to use him in making war upon us. When on his way here, in New York, the papers of that city stated he had declared there that he was returning to Oregon to place that State on the platform of the Confederated States. The Portland Advertiser, the Oregon Democrat, the Corvallis Union, the Eugene Herald, and Jacksonville Sentinel, (then managed by O'Meara) immediately on Lane's arrival in Oregon, by a simultaneous movement, denounced the Government, declared their sympathy with the rebels, and took exactly the positions which rebel presses would have taken with the expectation that this State would be thrown out of the Union. The lovers of the Union, in Oregon, alarmed at the obvious objects of men leagued with Jeff Davis, sought to establish Home Guards, with the sole design of sustaining our Union and Government, should they be endangered by foes without or within, our State. Have our readers forgotten the howl that went up from leading secessionists when this movement was projected, and to some extent carried out? Do they forget that the prosecution of this measure was threatened to be met by the Oregon Democrat with blood running in our streets? Do they not distinctly recollect the threats made by secession papers every where that this measure would lead to rebellion here? Do they not remember the declarations of Benjamin Stark—as a leader of the Lane party here in our midst—that secession was right, that the South was right, that he was for the South, that we had no Government but the Confederate Government—all in harmony with the designs and secession movements in Oregon—and which acts and declarations were made official by the sanction of Governor Whiteaker, Lane's tool, in making Stark Senator of the United States? Do our readers fail to recollect that the Advertiser is the exponent of secessionism here (many of the leading editorial articles of which were attributed to Mr Stark) declared that its sympathies were not with our Government, but with the South—that it prayed that our Government might be paralyzed in its efforts to sustain itself and that the whole secession press of Oregon raised huzzas of joy when the Union flag was humbled and its arms defeated by Jeff Davis and his minions who shouted for him as the glory of the land? Do our readers not now know that every pulsation and movement of the secession press of Oregon then as now, were rife with treason? Have we forgotten the deadly chill that the last election in California threw over the hopes and projects of the leading secessionists of Oregon?

We need not rehearse other potent facts to show to our readers that treason was at the bottom of all these declarations, acts, movements and policy of Joe Lane and his subalterns here. Our citizens are not properly [illegible] of the [illegible] which they have [illegible] GOVERNMENT [illegible] AWARE OF ALL THE FACTS WE HAVE STATED AND MANY MORE.

and that our only hope is to give up the contest and acknowledge the Southern Confederacy.

We are aware that in their agony at the prospects now before them, the secession presses here lament [illegible] for the Union' that they are and have been no [illegible] rebellion in Oregon and that all they [illegible] aimed at [illegible] was to give [illegible] their views [illegible]

[illegible] facts [illegible] fully understand them. And more than this—as we have before said—GOVERNMENT HAS ACKNOWLEDGE OF ALL THE MOVEMENTS OF THE MEN IN OREGON WHO FEAT HERE THE SYMPATHIZERS WITH THE SOUTH. THE DANGER HAS PASSED—WE BELIEVE HAS PASSED—WITH THE FEDERAL VICTORIES IN THE REBEL STATES. May Heaven speed them on!

A FEW WORDS TO THE POINT.—Said a citizen—"I like the Advertiser. I'm down on the violations of the Constitution—on the suspension of the habeas corpus—on the raising of armies by the government."

Reply—"What would have been the result if these measures had not been adopted by the government?"

Answer—"I don't know and I don't care. I am for preserving what I believe to be the Constitution."

Rejoins—"It is quite evident that if traitors had been suffered to do as they pleased about Washington and Baltimore, and troops had not been raised to meet the rebels, the capitol would have been taken by them and the government broken up."

Reply—"I am for the Constitution. If in carrying it out the government is broken up, let it go. I have sympathy for the South."

And this is the conclusion of the whole matter; there are men among us who claim to be Union men; they claim to be devoted to the Constitution; they wish the Constitution sustained as they choose to understand it, well knowing that if this had been done, Jeff Davis' legions would have broken up our government. The basis on which the superstructure of what they call patriotism is built, as the man whom we have quoted said—is "their sympathy with the South."

FROM ILLINOIS.—The Advertiser publishes what purports to be a letter from Peoria, Illinois, of which the following is an extract:

By the way, we are not so muzzled as when you were here. Our election in this county gave us 1,300 Democratic majority against the so-called "Union ticket," and you would rejoice to see the outbursts of enthusiasm that was exhibited after the election.

Some two months since a paper published in Peoria, Illinois—which had been a Buchanan and afterwards a Breckinridge paper, and subsequently a secession paper of the character of the Advertiser, and which had been in the first place supported by the post office in that city, the office having been given to the editor for that purpose, and later by other means than the patronage of the citizens, was not allowed the use of the mails and was suppressed. The Advertiser, we believe, published this fact at the time. The election spoken of was not run by political parties, and by one party was suffered to go by default. To any man who knows the politics of Peoria county, Illinois, the statement made that either party has a majority of 1,300 there is simply absurd.

The Advertiser, in its treasonable leader of yesterday, denounces as a miserable falsehood the charge that that paper "is for breaking up the government," and demands the proof to sustain the charge. We give it in words that cannot be mistaken, copied from the same paragraph in the Advertiser:

We live and go for the government when constitutionally administered—BUT IN NO OTHER WAY.

The Advertiser says that the government is NOT constitutionally administered, and using his own words, HE IS AGAINST IT!

Have we not thus condemned this traitor out of his own mouth?

VERILY THEY SHALL HAVE THEIR REWARD.—[illegible] Gen. R[illegible] [illegible] up on [illegible] pretense [illegible] prisoners who had previously [illegible] the [illegible] of the United States [illegible]

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

City Council.—Common Council met last night—eight members being present.

The only business transacted was the debate had on the different sections of an Ordinance reported by a special committee granting the exclusive privilege to Wm. S. Ladd and associates for the term of thirty years of supplying the city of Portland with water. The Board adjourned a little before eleven o'clock without taking any final action on the subject.

The Columbia River.—The steamer Vancouver was able to reach Vancouver yesterday. Capt. Turnbull reports the Columbia river open as far as Cape Horn, and the ice still running. Navigation to the Dalles will probably be open in a day or two.

Mail.—A through mail was received overland, last evening.

Turn Verein Soiree.—The Turn Verein Soiree comes off on Monday evening, March 17th, at their hall. We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation.

Trial Trip.—The steamer Julia is to make a trial trip up the Columbia this morning.

Papers Received.—We have received the Rocky Mountain News and several other papers, which are not overloaded with news. We expect to receive several more.

In the River.—By the Cowlitz last night, we learn that the brig Sunny South, with seventy eight passengers from San Francisco, is in the Columbia river, bound for this port.

The brig Sunny South left San Francisco for this port on the 18th ult., and crossed the Columbia river bar on Tuesday the 4th inst. The following is her manifest:

McQuade, 7 packages; F. Murry 1; Meud 33; Ladd, Reed & Co., 70; Diamond J. D., 7; Kallmas, 583; J. Total No. packages, 957.

A News Rumor.—Mr. Boyd, who came from Astoria last night, reports that an oyster schooner had arrived at Shoalwater Bay, with dates from the east to Feb. 24th—Charleston is reported destroyed and Memphis taken. A prominent rebel General was seriously wounded. No papers came up.

Lecture.—Madame Reeve, of New York city, will deliver a lecture in the Court house to-night on "The war and the affairs of the Country—How all was brought about," &c. See advertisement.

Administrator's Sale.—Oscar Kilbourn sells real estate in the city of Portland to-day at public auction. Sale takes place at ten o'clock.

City Election—will take place on the first Monday of April next.

Miners, with their pack animals, are constantly arriving in Portland, from the upper part of this valley.

The snow seems loth to leave the country back of the river. In some places it is yet a foot deep.

Farmers, who have market articles, vegetables, butter, chickens, eggs, &c., would now find a quick sale for them in this city and at high prices.

It is said that a bill before Congress, which is likely to pass, will increase the number of Judicial Districts in Washington Territory.

The impression is general that there will be a very light crop of wheat in Oregon this season. All kinds of grain will be likely to bring good prices next fall.

Chief Justice Marshall defined treason to be—"If war is actually levied—all who perform any part however minute, or however remote from the scene of action, and who are actually leagued in the general conspiracy, are to be considered as traitors."

Dreadful.—The Corvallis Union says that "the federals have met with success in Tennessee appears to us exceedingly doubtful."

Delinquents, Take Warning!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO ALL PERSONS whose taxes are remaining delinquent on the City Assessment Roll for 1861, that I will be at my office in Stark's Building between the hours of [illegible] P.M. of each day for the purpose of receiving and receipting for taxes yet remaining due and unpaid until the [illegible] of March. After that date I shall put all [illegible] that remain delinquent.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. Public Speakers and Singers will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it as well as its proprietor far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science and they occupy with others in equally lofty positions in the profession. Dr. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country, as a proof of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma and the honorary ad eundem degree, selecting this as his [illegible] operation with [illegible] as a graduate of the University of Pesth and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army [illegible] extended labors Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the leader in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most attractive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order, should make a TIGHT LOCK-STITCH alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton thread, or silk, directly from the spool and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to soil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side nor ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general supervision of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and West Coast of Mexico.

COFFEE AS A REMEDY FOR THE HOOPING COUGH.—In Dr George D Gibbs's work on hooping cough published in [illegible] 1854 [illegible] strong [illegible] the cure of this disease. It has been tried in several instances with marked effect. In one case the patient was a little girl six years of age. There was not a single "whoop" after she began to take it. She took a table spoonful [illegible] of very strong coffee sweetened but without milk three times daily. A young child in the same family was well of the disease in three weeks [illegible] other remedy was used in either case. In another instance in which we have recently tested it, the same happy results followed, the hooping symptom being at once arrested, and the complaint [illegible] speedy termination. It is difficult [illegible] the dose definitely, and this may account for the unsatisfactory results in one or two cases which we have heard of, in which a small [illegible] was given. Another important consideration which should not be lost sight of is that three quarters, probably, of what is drunk for coffee is made from nothing but peas or beans. The only sure method is to get the coffee berry itself and have it burnt and ground under one's own eye. The decoction should be given as strong as possible, and in a quantity only strong enough to cause the unpleasant stimulating effects of this beverage. Children take it very readily.—The last patient referred to above was only eighteen months old, and took, once a day, half a cup of coffee thus prepared, without the least noticeable injurious effect.

STANDING ON ETIQUETTE.—Those who are termed "simple minded people" adopt a curiously innocent mode of expression, astonishingly which comes so near art at times as to render its simplicity doubtful. A story is told of a young married couple—from the country of course—who recently attended an exhibition of "Dissolving Views." The bride being pretty attracted the attention of a stylish looking city gent, who occupied the same seat with the twain. During the exhibition the audience part of the hall being already obscured by some accident the light was nearly extinguished. Pending its recovery, which occupied some little time, the city gentleman perhaps accidentally, gently pressed the hand of the bride, who was too much alarmed to offer resistance. This bold act was followed by a bolder, certainly not accidentally, for the city Lothario absolutely kissed the bride! This was too much, and the young wife resolved to tell her husband, which she did, when the following whispered colloquy took place:

"John!"

"What?"

"This feller here's kissing me."

"Well," said John, who was a little shy of the citizen, "tell him to quit."

"Tell him yourself!"

"No, John, I don't like to; you tell him. The gentleman is a perfect stranger to me."

The seeds of great events lie near the surface; historians always delve too deep to find them. No history was ever true.

Those who are always prying into the affairs of their neighbors constitute a [illegible] sort of peerage.

The secessionists are much fonder of the news of the day than they will be of the noose of Hemp which awaits them.

Be calm while your adversary frets and rages, and you can warm yourself at his fire.
